By

Pupils at Barbary Hall Primary School, St Elizabeth Jamaica W.I.

The Windrush, the Windrush. It has been 75 years and they want to behave like they forgot us, forgot us.

The Windrush, the Windrush we didn't intrude to the Caribbean they came in 1948 and got us, got us.

The Windrush, the Windrush to the UK we came to help build after they got crush, got crush. After a post-war labor shortage, they decided to come and get us, get us.

The Windrush, the Windrush in the Caribbean islands it docked, and we load up. In the big ship 492 passengers sail up, sail up.

The Windrush, the Windrush please don't forget that you know us, know us. We came on the Windrush, The Windrush in Tilbury, Essex on June 22, 1948. We dock up, we dock up. Please remember we came on the Windrush, the Windrush.

The Windrush Generation.

On a big ship we came, from the Caribbean we sail. On the Windrush ship we came. After an invite on the docked Windrush on the Caribbean islands we boarded and loaded. After a long, long sail in Tilbury we docked. We became your manual workers, cleaners, drivers and nurses. After years of working and building a great nation, the Windrush generation was growing and brewing in the great UK but still they don't even know us. Nor the reason we came and the part we played. What a big big shame, I wonder how they can repay us.
